CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
St. Joseph, Missouri

Photograph by Mr. L. C. Shady, News-Press Photographer
Foreword

Through all his life, Eugene Field carried with him a deep affection and fondness for St. Joseph and its citizens. Wherever he might be, in Europe, or in various sections of America, his thoughts returned in reminiscence to all the city had meant to him; his engagement and marriage, his journalistic work, the joys of his children, and his grief in losing one in death.

In a like manner, alumni of Central High treasure their memories of the school and the community. No matter how far they roam, to the most remote section of the world, the words of the school song become ever more comprehensive:

“Our love for you so dear and true
Thru years shall never die.
There’s hope and strife, there’s joy and life
There’s all in Central High.”

It is with this hope of pleasant memories to come that this book has been created. May it preserve them fresh and clear during all the years.

“And they wonder, as waiting the long years through
In the dust of that little chair,
What has become of Our Little Boy Blue,
Since he kissed them and put them there.”
Off Lover's Lane—
Is there any scene lovelier than Wild crab trees in bloom in springtime?

"With your head upon my shoulder, And my arm about you so,
Through exiles, we shall seem to be. In Lover's Lane, St. Jo."
Book of Knowledge
Dear Harriet,

Our friendship these past four years has really meant a lot to me!!

Let’s get together and this summer, and really get tanned going swimming and remember to bring a hat and sunblock. (probably just)

Hurray, you’ve really got what it takes, and I know you will. I’ve really gone as far when I hear you sing.

I’ll say -- kids I knew her when she was president of the cheerleaders and most popular gal at Central, and all that stuff! (they’ll be wanting my autograph.)

No hay through my school was ever out of school we made sure we were out of school. We still gotta keep Verde loving and gettin’ together as much as usual. That’s a love to one whose friendship I cherish dearly.

Harriet Young

This is my letter.
In Explanation of Our Theme

"The little toy dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch he stands."

This is a magical phrase taken from Eugene Field’s famous poem, “Little Boy Blue”, familiar to the people throughout the world. Perhaps the reader will wonder why we have chosen this great poet and gentleman as the theme for the 1938 Wakitan. In explanation, we say:

The Women’s Press Club of St. Joseph have undertaken to secure enough money from the nation to finance the erection of a Eugene Field memorial. This proposed memorial would be placed on “Lover’s Lane” which Eugene Field immortalized in his poem bearing the same name. Even though we have held the poet in highest esteem through our lives, we felt that this was the correct time for a dedication to him.

Field’s interesting life offered many outlets for yearbook ideas. One of his diversified hobbies was that of extensive book collecting; thus, we have made our collection of five books: Book of Knowledge, Book of Verse, Book for Sportsman, Book of Sharps and Flats, and Book of School Life.

Citizens of our city have always been conscious of the fact that Field was a resident of St. Joseph and wrote eloquently of it. We have striven to impress this into the minds of those who have not been overly conscious of it. Some of the most important events in his life occurred during his residence here; namely, his marriage to Julia Comstock, his confident and companion.

We have tried not to deviate from the original subject matter, and we hope that this has added to the attractiveness of the theme.

And so we present to you the 1938 Wakitan with the desire that it will create interest in the subject, inspire a greater admiration for the poet, and aid the city in the erection of the memorial to so talented a man.

MISS CALLA E. VARNER

To think of Eugene Field is to think of "St. Jo., Buchanan County." To think of Central High School is to think of Miss Calla E. Varner, who has endeared herself to thousands of students who have been trained under her excellent leadership. Through her unfailing judgment, Central will, as in the past, continue to win more glory.

And the Administrators of St. Joseph School System

MR. ISAAC E. STUTSMAN

Mr. Isaac E. Stutsman is the head of all schools in St. Joseph. He is an excellent example of a fine citizen as his many and widespread accomplishments in his community have shown. His charming personality and intelligence has permitted him to become an outstanding character in city, state, and national educational organizations. It is through Mr. Stutsman that the schools of St. Joseph have been able to carry on a progressive program.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The School Board is a group of the community's outstanding citizens who have been selected to help in carrying out the educational program of St. Joseph. The citizens who now compose the board are in line for congratulations for their splendid work in promoting the education in our community.

Members of the Board of Education not in the picture are: Mr. George Richmond, treasurer; Mr. Paul Lowry, engineer; and Alva Lindsey, legal adviser.

A very busy and yet agreeable man is our Vice-Principal, Mr. George Blackwell. Besides his many duties as Vice-Principal, dean of boys, and athletic director, he is also a teacher of Economics and American Government, and is sponsor of Central's honorary Social Science Club and the Forum. Mr. Blackwell is a willing and helpful adviser to all students. His wit and wisdom is enjoyed by students in all his classes.

MISS LOUISE BARTHOLOM

This gracious person is very well known at Central. She is dean of girls as well as sponsor of our Student Council and teacher of United States History. She is an active member of both our community and school.
Directors of Knowledge

"Little Boy Blue", sadly, never lived long enough to go to school, but even if he had, he would not have had one half the choice of courses and the advantages of a modern school that we of Central, have today. Here are some of the subjects that a Central student may include in his curriculum.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

A varied and attractive course is offered in English to every student. Some of the subjects a student may choose in this department are: Creative Writing, News Writing, Remedial Reading, American Literature, English Literature, Speech, and Business English.

Speech is a course which proves to be very helpful in later life. It has as its chief aims: to enable a student to "think on his feet" and improve his manner of delivering talks and speeches—as well as improve and enlarge his vocabulary.

Remedial Reading classes have been formulated to help students who are found to be deficient in reading ability. Journalism, a senior English subject, has for its aims to develop good citizenship, to give the student a thorough understanding of the working of a modern newspaper and to acquire accuracy and fluency in writing.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

American Government is a practical course for seniors which deals with the political, social, and economic problems of our nation. It includes the study of the actual operation of the government, national, state and local, and takes into consideration ways for improvement of each.

World History is an elective subject which any sophomore may take, and which should enable him to better understand and appreciate the world in which he lives and the manner in which it came to its present state.

United States History is a required subject for all juniors. This course reviews the history of the United States from the country’s discovery to present day problems.

LATIN

Latin, which is a subject designed to familiarize students with one of the oldest basic languages, and to help them gain an insight into English grammar by a comparative study of the two languages, is a subject which is mostly studied by students who are continuing it from junior high school and who intend to use it further in the study of law, medicine or academic work.

LANGUAGE

One of the modern languages taught at Central, and which any student may take for two or four semesters, is Spanish. This subject has as its objective to enable the pupil to read, speak, and understand the language, and to learn about the customs, history, and literature of Spanish-speaking people.

French, which is a most interesting language, has for its objectives to develop a student’s reading ability, both in English and French, to make him able to use French in both reading and writing, commercially, and to promote friendly understanding between France and America.
Science, Mathematics

MATHEMATICS

The first mathematics a student may take at Central is Geometry. This is a study of the theoretical measures of various geometrical objects in the third dimension. In his Junior year he may continue his mathematics with Algebra, which includes a review of the first year Algebra as well as advanced work. As a Senior, he may take Trigonometry and Solid Geometry.

One of the most interesting mathematical courses offered to the incoming Sophomore, is Practical Mathematics, which deals with the actual use of mathematics in business.

CHEMISTRY

Any junior or senior may include Chemistry in his program. This educational subject develops laboratory technique, gives the student a knowledge of scientific facts, and makes it possible for him to understand and interpret the many applications of Chemistry in his every day life.

There are two classes of the regular Chemistry course and two of the more recent Practical Chemistry courses offered for study each semester.

BIOLOGY

An interesting Natural Science subject is Biology. There are two separate courses, one for juniors and one for seniors, taught each year. It develops in the student an understanding of important Biological principles and an acquaintance with the human body and living things.

PHYSICS

Juniors and seniors, who may take Physics should acquire a knowledge of the fundamental ideas and principles of the inanimate part of the world around them. Physics includes the study of mechanics, and machines, heat, magnetism, electricity, and sound and light.

COMMERCIAL

One of the most useful vocational commercial subjects is bookkeeping. In the first semester’s work the student learns how to enter, apply, and close the accounts of a ledger; in his second semester he receives the social side of bookkeeping—that is keeping of accounts applicable to churches, lodges, and preparing tax reports. After the first two years’ study the student learns the practical side to prepare him for a bookkeeping career.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

Another useful vocational subject is Mechanical Drawing. There are two full classes taught each year and the course counts a full credit for one year. Mostly boys take this course and many of them expect to continue the study with some kind of engineering. The systematic, orderly drawing of objects of various sizes and shapes, helps the student to develop and to use his imagination as to how those certain objects appear in different positions.

COMMERCIAL LAW

A business commercial course, which is very valuable to students contemplating a career in law, is Commercial Law. When a student completes this course, he should have a general knowledge of laws pertaining to trade and commerce relations and contracts in general. A discussion of actual court cases on this line and of the many trials using the court’s point of view, goes to make this subject interesting as well as useful.

Typing

Typing is one of the most popular subjects in the commercial course. Any student may take it for either two or three semesters and this year a new special class has been added in which the students may include all three semesters’ work in one semester if they are capable of doing so. There are three different rooms in which typing is taught, thus enabling a maximum amount of students to take it.
Physical Education

CLOTHING

The clothing course offered at Central for girls, has been made a full credit course. Being an elective subject, it is open for any girl who chooses to enroll. This subject enables a girl to recognize textiles and to buy those best suited for her purposes. It also provides for her learning to make her own garments, or if she expects to buy them, ready-made, she is more capable of judging and purchasing them in an economical way.

FOODS

Foods is an elective subject for any junior or senior girl who may want to improve her ability in cooking and knowledge of foods. It is designed to establish good food habits and to develop technique in preparation and serving food. There is a growing interest in foods among the citizens of the world.

MUSIC

Some of the music courses included in the Constructive Arts department are: Orchestra, Band, Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, and the more recently introduced course, Fundamentals in Music. All of these give invaluable training both in individual and in group work, and should give the student an appreciation of the better kind of music.

ART

Art is a subject which is worthwhile in preparing a student for a career and in acquiring a greater knowledge and appreciation of fine arts. The students in the Art Department do a great deal in promoting the appreciation of art at school and in the community.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education department of Central is one of the most important departments of the school as nearly every student is engaged in some of its activities in one way or another. Some of its activities in one way or another. Sometimes considered a part of this department, is the R. O. T. C. which any boy may take instead of gym.

The student government of Central is representative in form, the members being chosen by the various classes. It is called the Student Council. It is presided over by its president, Charles Richmond. The members under the leadership of its four officers and three cabinet members and the sponsor, Miss Louise Barthold, help to make rules which simplify the life of Centralites by preventing perplexing and annoying situations before they occur. One of the most useful services rendered by this organization is the Lost and Found department by which many things are found and returned to their rightful owners. This service is under the management of Gene Hawk. Another valuable service is the Book Exchange under the direction of Billy Lamborn. The Student Council patrols our halls to keep them quiet during the lunch periods. We had five all-school dances this year in comparison to two last year.

The High School Student Council Convention was held at Central during the first semester.
Last year our Student Council gave much of its time to raise money for the Convention. There were about three hundred people who attended the convention, representing thirty-five schools and seven states. Most of the time was devoted to discussion groups and lectures by the students.
Many of the speakers were of our own school.
In these, our school problems were brought up and methods of correcting them was suggested.
Bob James was the chairman of the Convention.

The most noted man of the convention was Dr.
John Rufl of the Department of Education from the University of Missouri, who was here to observe the proceedings. As for recreation there was a dinner-dance at the Robidoux Hotel. Our cafeteria served luncheon every day. The next meeting will be held at Coffeville, Kansas.

Some of the other important services of the Student Council are the orientation classes for the incoming sophomores, printing the Handbook, and participation in sectional convention. The Student Council is a very valuable organization.

As the time approaches and the paths ahead of this graduating class begin to diverge, we are filled with a mingled feeling of regret, pleasant associations, and pride in the achievements and the splendid record of this class. This admirable record is not easily to be forgotten by both the administration and the students left behind. Central to most of us means so much that not even the excitement and wonders of being graduated can totally console us. These three advantageous years have been filled to the brim with activities and services and all have given the best they had to offer.

Miss Florise Peirson and Miss Vera Tilson were chosen as sponsors, and under their excellent guidance, the class was able to reach the heights.

Having been so outstanding in their first year, they continued by choosing the following students to guide and represent them: President, Charles Richmond; Vice-president, Donald Guinn; Secretary, Harriet Hardman; Treasurer, Bill Yount. The presentation of "Swingtime" helped to make the annual Capers even more of a success. To the annual Student Council Convention, at Sedalia, Billy Abbott, Jimmy Hance, Don Guinn, and Lorraine Stutsman, were sent. Included in their achievements that year should be their outstanding representation in the National Honor Society.

Every Day at Central

1. Twelve o’clock and all’s swell. For boys only.
2. Time out for the pause that refreshes. My brother is the one who has the football suit on.
3. Here’s our R. O. T. C. supremes, Sergeant McCasky and Sergeant Buckner.
4. Going my way. And they even have a license. Better move over, here comes a car behind you.
5. Whose phone number is it? It’s not fair, telling secrets. Let me in on it too.
6. The half Nelson, the hard way. Come on, turn around and let’s see your faces.
7. Oh, you nasty boys. They’re always bothering you, aren’t they Marty?
8. Oh, my such dribble! Now don’t get rough, girls.
9. This is where I came in. I think I’ll be going, toodle-doo!
10. Pitching (don’t get excited) horseshoes. Come on, swing it boys.
11. Going so soon? Don’t hurry, you have years of time.
12. Off on a journey. The tramps, Bill, P. J., Jes and Freddy. Come on or we’ll be pulling off without you.
13. With sun gets in my eyes I’ll see you later, about eight bells.
15. Playing check to cheek. You got the wrong number, Buddy. It’s 827. I’ll be home after seven, and ring three times.
16. Look out Harriet. You’ll knock that little kid on the side of you over.

Eugene Field was noted for his love of fun and frolic, his irrepressible wit, a characteristic typical also of the jolly Juniors at Central. The members of the class of 1939 as Juniors, have supplied much of the inspiring gaiety which has brightened Central's halls during the past year.

They told the world the real reason "Annie Doesn't Live Here Any More," in an amusing and entertaining side show at the Capers, near the first of the school year. Jack Sarno and Harold Morgan headed a cast of twelve outstanding students. An unusually large number of Juniors participated in the main show of the 1937 Capers.

The Juniors sponsored the banquet given for the Student Council Convention at the Hotel Robidoux, the theme of which was the "Circus." A committee consisting of Mary Ann Guitar, R. A. McDonald, Charles Booser, and Clyda Conrad, worked with members of the art department to make the banquet a success.

The final event of the year, sponsored by the Juniors, will be the Junior-Senior Tea Dance, to be given on June 1.

The class of '39 has profited greatly by the helpful direction and encouragement of its sponsors, Miss Hester DeNeen, and Miss Thekla Anderson.

It has been headed by an efficient group of officers, Jess Henson as president; William Vavra, vice-president; Lawrence Robinson, secretary; and Claude Funkhouser, treasurer. The students chosen to represent the class in the Student Council were: Jean Adams, Newton Hatfield, Bob Stuber, Claude Funkhouser, Bebe Garrett, Cecil Harrison, Eleanor Kerr, Norma June Klein, Bob Koser, Caryl Potter, Lawrence Robinson, and Billy Vavra.

Seventy-four students were eligible for the National Honor Society and fifteen achieved the highest goal a Junior can at Central, that of being admitted as an actual member to the society.

Further proof of the scholastic standing of this group is shown by the semester honor-roll. Students whose names appeared on the high honor roll are: Frank Buzard, Clyda Conrad, Irwin Downing, Esther Epston, Darlyne Horner, Mary Ann Jones, Eleanor Kerr, Harold Stewart, George Yancey, Mary Ann Guitar. Those who placed on the low honor roll are: Jean Adams, Mary Allison, Delores Bales, June Barnett, Evelyn Bradford, Helen Brahnisky, Allen Breckenridge, Donald Brooks, LaVerne Buck, Paul Burns, June Caldwell, Margaret Cook, Dorothy Cummins, Anna Lee Droher, Joseph Droher, Betty Eckhardt, Franklin Fansher, Jean Featherston, Claude Funkhouser, Rita Goehner, Mildred Goff, Bill Goldsberry, Betty Halberg, Margarette Hughart, Dorrit Hunt, Katherine Jesberg, Florence Johnson, Harriett Kars, Violet Keller, Norma Klein, Muriel Landree, Esther Lawrence, Vera Maxwell, Mary Davis McCord, Mary Louise McCord, Marian McMachen, Reuben Mendell, Ruth Ann Miller, Winnielee Miller, Margie Morris, Jean Moser, Ruby Munshaw, Mary Pappas, Walter Patt, Anne Peck, Rosemary Pedrick, Margaret Peggus, Mildred Peterson, Bennie Rainey, Floyd Ramseyer, Charles Randle, Ida Mae Romag, Virginia Rose, Florence Schneider, Grace Seary, Mary Lee Semrad, Barbara Seufert, Mary Shaffer, Ned Sheshy, Clay Sitton, Alma Smith, Kenneth Smith, Metta Sommer, Howard Steele, Alice Steinacker, Yetta Tovsky, Dwane Wylie, and Evelyn Connett.

The class of 1939 has proved itself capable of taking over the Seniors’ task of leadership and guidance next year, of upholding Central’s ideals and traditions and passing them on to the class of 1940 at the close of the year.
On September 13, 1937, and January 31, 1938, 482 Sophomores entered Central High School. These inexperienced followers did much during the past year and worked faithfully and diligently in whatever they undertook. Their efficient sponsors, Miss Josephine Hennasy and Miss Lucille Marechal, helped to guide them in their work. Orientation classes conducted by the members of the student council acquainted the newcomers with the works and activities at Central. Their leaders were Dee Crabtree, president; Harold Hatfield, vice-president; Duane Spalsbury, secretary; Bob Yount, treasurer.

In scholastic ability as well were they outstanding. The names of Dee Crabtree, Joan Eckleberry, Eileen Pansher, Betty Jo Riley, Margarita Moorman, Lauretta Scheider, Donald Stallard, Mary Tegeler, Jack Walker, and William White appeared on the high honor roll. Those on the low honor roll were:

ARNOLD EMBREE, Coach

Arnold Embree is spending his first year at Central. He came to us from the Missouri Military Academy where he coached last year.

In his first year as football coach, Mr. Embree showed his coaching ability by teaching his system successfully to fourteen returning lettermen. He brought Central’s football team second place in the Inter-City League race and the team won seven games losing only to Topeka and Benton. The track squad had an exceptionally fine season. Mr. Embree was also a very able aid to Mr. Cronkite in coaching the basketball squad.

FRITZ CRONKITE, Coach

Fritz Cronkite is Central’s second new coach this year but in spite of this his basketball team has built up quite an enviable record. Fritz is a former Central student during which time he was practically the whole football team. He lettered for four straight years and made the All-City honor team for four years.

In his first year of basketball coaching Cronkite was under the handicap of teaching four returning lettermen his system of basketball. In spite of this the team won ten of their fourteen scheduled games. They also placed third in the Regional tournament. The team placed third in the Inter-City basketball race unfortunately losing three of their games to Inter-City foes. Their final season record was: thirteen games won and five lost.

MARION GIBBINS, Assistant Coach

Marion Gibbins was a great help to both the head coaches. Besides being assistant coach in football, basketball, and track, he is head coach of tennis, golf, and debate. His teams this year worked out well and brought many honors to Central.

LOY OWENS, Assistant Coach

Mr. Owen is a new assistant coach. He came to us from the University of Nebraska. He organized the boys’ bowling league, helped the swimming team, organized several basketball tournaments, promoted intramural sports, and has been an aid to Coaches Embree and Cronkite.

Although the Indians started the 1917 season under the leadership of Coach A. J. Redfern and Fritz Corwin, they had another successful football season. The Tribe won seven games and lost only two, finishing the season with four straight victories, and in a blaze of glory.

In their first game, the Central varsity met a surprisingly strong team from Normal, Nebraska, but managed to defeat them, 14 to 12, by virtue of P. J. Deacon's accurate place kicks for extra points. This game was played at the City Stadium near the end of September, and Fisher and Stuber scored touchdowns.

For the second contest, the Indians met the Shawnees from Lafayette, in their first intra-city game, which was played at the City Stadium early in October. The Shawnees were held to a 14 to 12 defeat, and Fisher scored two touchdowns while Barks scored one.

In the third game, the Indians met the Shakers from Kansas, in the middle of October, for their first road game, and being victorious in two contests, they were a bit overconfident. The Trojans then showed the Indians up by winning 42 to 0, on a muddy Washburn college field. Stuber and Fisher kicked goals in Central's backfield.

The Tribe came back on the rebound to defeat the first-place Wildcats team the following Saturday, 13 to 0. Two weeks later, Central and Benton met in a game to decide the city championship. Before the largest crowd of the year the Cardinals defeated the Indians, 9 to 4.

In the final game of the year, the Indians played the Shakers from Kansas, where they ran all over the Shakers team, 34 to 0, Fisher scored two touchdowns, while Stuber, Crabtree, and Deacon scored one.

In the final game of the year, the Indians defeated their traditional rival, Christian Brothers, 25 to 0. The victory gave the Indians first place in intra-city standings. Deacon, Crabtree, and Fisher scored a touchdown each while Barks scored two.

At the close of the season twenty-four letters were presented. Four were made the All-City. They were: B. Stuber, J. Catron, B. Litten, P. Eastbourne.

When the Central athletes deserted their football bags for basketball suits, four lettermen answered the call. They were Stuber, Deen, Easton, and Captain Litton. Along with these, Henson, E. Litton, Gulash, Maxwell, Hicks, and Baker played varsity basketball during the season. In the first game of the year, the Indians met the Hopkins team. The Redskins scored a clean 24 to 23 victory. Stuber's offensive play was outstanding. After a long lay-off, the Central team met Lafayette, and were defeated on their own court 20 to 19. Bill Litton managed to garner nine points. The next night the Indians met Independence. The score was 27 to 23. With Bill Litton accounting for eight points. In the second intra-city contest, Central met the Easton team. The score was tied at first overtime until, in the second overtime, the Cardinals scored first and won 14 to 12. The same week-end the Redskins made a trip to Topeka, Kansas, and lost by the score of 23 to 22. Litton again was high scorer with nine points. Central then played the following week, the Golden Eagles of Christian Brothers. The Indians won easily with Easton playing a great offensive and defensive game. The score was 21 to 12. In a return game with the Topeka team, the Centurions won by a late burst of scoring power 22 to 21. Deen was outstanding with six counters from the field.

In the second game with the Lafayette Shamrocks, the Central baskerots were out to win, only to be outpointed 21 to 17. The next week, the Indians again

showed their superior floor work to outpoint Christian

High 27 to 18. Henson turned in the best performance. Then the Central squad returned the Benton set-back by winning the Cardinals' game, 32 to 24. Stuber looked best for the Indians, scoring on their winning streak the "Ruby Footers" reached a perfect game winning with the next score of 22 to 22. Our dominated victory was Benton high school. Litton hit the backboard from all sides, coming out with 13 white points. Deen totaled nine and Stuberilled for eight points. All the reserves played. The Blue and White still was flying over William Christman, Hugh of Independence as the Indians won 27 to 18. On a trip through Nebraska, the team tumbled Fairbury 35 to 14, and again defeated the shaky Beatrice quintet, 33 to 30. This closed the regular season for the Central Indians. The season totals were ten wins and four losses. Three of these were in the city league play. In the tournament, Central routed Winston, 26 to 22; Weatherby, 40 to 17; but lost to Tractoe, 36 to 17. A third place trophy was awarded the team as a result of defeating Grayson, 41 to 22.

Sponsor Major

The Central R. O. T. C. unit selected Miss Harriet Hardman as Sponsor Major this year. Miss Hardman was selected from a group of candidates by a vote of the entire R. O. T. C. unit. Miss Hardman's duties as Sponsor Major are to attend all parades, regimental inspection, banquets, and other military functions. Upon her selection, Miss Hardman was elected honorary member of the Shield and Spear.

Captain Floyd R. Brisack

Captain Floyd R. Brisack appeared in St. Joseph in 1935. He holds the title of Professor of Military Science and Tactics and is in charge of all the R. O. T. C. units in the city. He has proved, in the time that he has been here to be a very excellent supervisor in R. O. T. C.

Sergeant McCroskey

Sergeant J. A. McCroskey has been instructor at Central since 1932. He has shown his ability as a military instructor in the excellence of his unit. When Central fails to receive an honor school award because of its R. O. T. C. unit the Sergeant is keenly disappointed. Being more than an instructor, he is a friend to all boys in R. O. T. C. In short, we of Central think that we have the finest R. O. T. C. instructor in the city and we hope to keep him.

Regimental Staff

The Regimental Staff, chosen each year by Captain Floyd R. Brisack, is the highest ranking group of R. O. T. C. cadets in the city. It consists of a Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, five Majors and Adjutant. Central was fortunate enough this year to get six men on the staff. Lieutenant Colonel went to Benton High School. Lafayette High School received a Cadet Major.

The R. O. T. C. rifle team participated in several matches during the year. In the all-city match the following ten men placed highest and were given letters: Darnell, Flynn, Vavra, Potter, Koser, Minor, Porter, McDonald, and Wiezorck.

Cadets Koser, Flynn, Potter, Vavra, Darnell, and substitute, Minor, were chosen to participate in the seventh corp area match. Cadet Flynn placed ninth in the high ten of this match. He was the only man from Central to place.

The Indoor Camp Perry match for the seventh corps area was held at Boonville. Eight states participated. Cadets Flynn, Potter, Koser, and Vavra were chosen to participate.

Shield and Spear

The Shield and Spear is Central's Honorary Military Club. It is sponsored by Sergeant J. A. McCroskey, Central's R. O. T. C. instructor. The members are selected by vote of the original members and only the pick of the R. O. T. C. cadets are allowed to join. The motto of the Shield and Spear is Ability, Service, and Character. In order to qualify to these requirements a cadet must be outstanding in leadership, show excellent military courtesy, and be of a superior character.

The Shield and Spear held the first of a series of annual parties on March 4, 1938. It was acclaimed one of the most successful parties of the year.

Officers of the Shield and Spear for 1937 and 1938 are: Commander Melvin Brocker, Vice Commander Roy Sommers, Adjutant Jack Williams, Chaplain Bradford Cornelius, and Sergeant at Arms Harold Morgan.

High Honors to Students

Bob James, Vice-President

Lily Marie Carter, Secretary
Melvin Brocker, Treasurer

To become a member of the National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors a high school student may achieve, for it denotes that the student has rendered invaluable service to his school, has excelled in scholarship and leadership, and whose character is of the highest.

The acquisition of admittance to the society is quite difficult, for only fifteen per cent of the Seniors may belong, and five per cent of the Juniors. They have also had to fulfill the five following requisites, namely: be voted in by all of the eligible students; have at least thirty activity points, determined by the point system; have maintained a scholastic average of at least "S"; have received a favorable vote from the faculty; have a superior character rating, the vote of all the present members and Faculty committee.

The officers for the chapter during the first semester were: President, Richard Addy; Vice-President, Everett Young; Secretary, Lorraine Stutsman; and Treasurer, Maryle Mitchell. The present officers are: President, Paul Beauchamp; Vice-President, Bob James; Secretary, Lily Marie Carter; and Treasurer, Melvin Brocker.
Tap Day Thrills

Tap Day is the day of days for students eligible for entrance into the National Honor Society. During the second week of March, annually, an auditorium meeting is called for the purpose of introducing prospective members to the student body. Words cannot express the thrills a successful student receives when he is notified, publicly, by a tap on the shoulder. This indicates that all for which he has striven, has at last come true.

The Seniors not appearing in picture but were admitted into the society the first semester are: Alvin Beck, Maxine Eberhardt, Kermit Fattig, Esther Herndon, Bob James, Helen Liseter, and Virginia McMindes. Juniors admitted by completing their requirements were: Jean Adams, Frank Buzard, Margie Morris, and Charles Randle.

A banquet is given every year in honor of the students who have become members. This year the new members will be guests of the school on May 26. The Reverend John Mayne of the First Congregational Church will be the speaker.

Quill and Scroll

Eugene Field was a talented journalist as well as a poet, and began his career by writing for a newspaper. The members of the Quill and Scroll have attained the honor of being a member of this society by having published articles in the Central Outlook.

The Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society for journalism students who are in the upper third of their class, have had at least one thousand lines accepted for the paper, are recommended by their instructor, and whose writings are passed upon by the National Secretary, Professor Edward Nell, of the Northwestern University.

Mary Ann Burks is the president of Central's chapter; Gene Davidson is vice-president; Clarence Gardner, secretary; Stanley Dale, treasurer; Jimmy Ashcraft, historian; Geneva Augustine, sergeant-at-arms. Miss Kathryn J. Stiles is the sponsor.
Publications Rate
Outlook Staff, First Semester

The works of Eugene Field are especially interesting to students in publication classes, the publishers of the Central Outlook, sponsored by Miss Kathryn J. Stiles. In the first semester they make a study of the technique of publishing a paper, and the method of writing news stories, features, and editorials.

The paper is supported fifty per cent by the activity fee and fifty per cent by advertisements in it, and is given to the students on their activity ticket. All contributions are made by the students. The Outlook is ranked with the best papers in its class of high schools of 1,000 to 1,500 students in the United States. It has won high honors in contests held by the National Scholastic Press Association Columbia Press Association, and the Missouri Interscholastic Association.

To maintain the previous high standard of the Outlook was a task to which the second semester staff made itself equal by diligent study.
The first semester of journalism was spent in studying the different types of stories, news sources, make-up, and methods of writing.
The first publication of the class was the Kaper Klapper, which was patrons.

In the spring several of the outable to display their writing ability in the contests and to uphold the tradition of the Central Outlook.

Besides publishing the Outlook,
the staff also cooperates with pre-

The Writers of 1938 Wakitan

Wakitan Board

Eugene Field was inspired to write many of his pieces of work from action and scenes of life. When he viewed some beautiful and unusual scene he would describe it in words, but when the Wakitan Board viewed a spectacular scene in action, instead of describing it they would photograph it. Pictures in action have been the prevailing idea, which they have stressed in this year's book.

The theme of the Wakitan, "Eugene Field" was carried out in a playlet, "We Can Take It With Us," which was presented to the student body as advertisement. In the playlet, Eugene Field and his wife, Julia, returned in 1938 to find that time had changed things. The six divisions of the Wakitan were represented by a different skit.

Informal pictures, pictures in action, and studies in brown are dominant in the yearbook. The Board has adopted this slogan, "A picture of everyone in the Wakitan," and they have worked loyally and faithfully in keeping with this slogan.

Early pioneers, Indian tribes, and much-sought land formed the theme for the 1938 “Tower Gleams,” the Central literary publication. “The Hundred Years” appropriately titled the magazine, which was founded upon the idea of the one hundred years following the Platte Purchase. This purchase, in which Buchanan County is included, celebrated its centennial in 1937. The Missouri legislature recently appropriated $10,000 for celebration purposes. St. Joseph plans an elaborate pageant in commemoration of the historical event.

The specially trained English VII and VIII writing class succeeded in conveying to its readers life from 1837 until the present date. Psychological child studies, the glamorous event of Eugene Field’s last visit to St. Joseph, a humorous “doodle” collection, a modern girl’s sparkling life, and the contrasting betrothal and marriage of a girl of the 1830’s, helped compose the thoroughly readable and valuable magazine.

The staff, under the guidance of the editor-in-chief, Mr. Harry Feltenstein, Jr., labored hard to achieve the desired publication. The art editors skillfully carved linoleum blocks to garnish the literary articles, and the pages proved both colorful and decorative. The buff and brown cover signified the consummation of several months spent in creative writing.

Boys’ Glee Club

Though Eugene Field was not deeply interested in music, his poems have had a certain musical quality which has inspired musicians to compose music for his poetry, which is very excellent for Glee Club music. The Boys’ Glee Club has presented many splendid numbers during the school year.
"A Modern Thanksgiving"

Thanksgiving Play

"A Modern Thanksgiving" by Margeret Parsons was presented November 24, 1937, under the direction of Miss Helen Groves and Miss Mary Lou Davies.

The scene was in the dining room of an average American family home. The children had returned home for the holidays.

After debating the question of when the Thanksgiving dinner will be held, the parents, persuaded by their children's desires, decide to go modern and fly to New York for their holiday dinner so that the children will have the day free to do as they please.

After obtaining their wish for a free Thanksgiving Day, the children are not as contented as they should be, finding that after all what they really want is a good old fashioned Thanksgiving Day at home.

The student directing committee consisted of: Geneva Augustine, Mildred Funk, and June Johnson. Miss Mary Ann Griffin had charge of the properties committee.

Christmas Play

"Nativity" was the play presented last Christmas, and it was one that will long remain in the minds of Central students and the visitors. They, like Eugene Field, appreciated good talent like that presented by the students. The scenes of this story gave to those present the real meaning and feeling of the season. Through the combined efforts of a large cast, the age-old but never tiresome story was successfully told. The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs added to the program with their equally enjoyable singing.

Armistice Day
Contrary to custom there was no play on Armistice Day, but the Reverend George Mauze was induced to speak upon the evils of war. The students were one and all deeply impressed by the eloquence and feeling with which he spoke. Paul Beauchamp recited the war poem written by a father in commemoration to his son who was killed in the war, “Little Fellow, Me Lad.” The R. O. T. C. group, led by Selwyn Leibowitz, paid Central’s respect to those graduates of Central who lost their lives “over there” in an attempt to protect us.

Many Take Part in Operetta

Characters taking leads in the operetta.
Upper Picture—Reading left to right: Harold Cole, Dorothy Butler, Louis Harder, Ethelmae Mooney, Paul Beauchamp, Margaret Campbell, Roy Sommers, Harriet Hardman, Richard Gray, June Littles, Louis Horton.

Over one hundred students took part in the operetta. Art and sewing students also displayed their talent.
Lower Picture: Complete cast of "Patience".

"Patience," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, was presented under the direction of Mr. William Rice, with the assistance of Miss Beulah Bennett.

The cast consisted of ten leads supported by a chorus of deeply enamored maidens, and a detachment of English Dragoons. "Patience" was enacted by Ethelmae Mooney; Archibald Grosvenor by Paul Beauchamp; Colonel Mergatroyd, Roy Sommers; Reginald Bunthorne, Harold Cole; Ella, Harriet Hardman; Lady Jane, June Littles; Lady Saphir, Margaret Campbell; Lady Angela, Dorothy Butler; Duke, Lewis Horton; and the Major, Lewis Harder.

Throughout the operetta the Dragoons were striving to win the affection of the twenty lovesick maidens and finally succeeded.
All-School Play Presented

This year the all-school play was "Little Women." It portrayed the sorrows and happiness, the disappointments and loves of an average American family. The action took place during December, 1863 in Concord, Massachusetts. The scenes were set in the simple and pleasant home of the Marsh's Plumfield.

Those of us who have seen the play love the boyish Jo, dainty Meg, beautiful Amy and shy Beth. Lovable Mr. Lawrence and gay Larry added to the scene while Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, John Brooke and Mr. Baeher, German professor, lend to the more serious portions. Aunt Marsh, that changeable old maid and Hannah, the grand old lady and the maid of the Marsh family added to the fun.

"Three’s A Crowd"

Speech Play

"Three’s A Crowd," a speech play, was an interesting inside into the hectic lives of two boys in love with the same girl and the little sister who was unwillingly "dragged" to the dance as a chaperon. The original date's cousin took big sister and the car to the dance, leaving said date and little sister to get home as best they could. As usual everything turned out well and little sister "got her man."

"We Can Take It With Us"

The presentation of the annual Wakitan play, "We Can Take It With Us" proved a high light in the beginning of the new semester. The story was taken from the yearbook theme, Eugene Field, and was written by Margery Rosen, assisted by Harry Bowersox, Bellarose Wienshienk, Herbert Kligman, and Sam Meltes.

The play was divided into five skits, representing the divisions in the Wakitan.

Book I. Book of Knowledge: The president, Sam Meltes; the secretary, Herbert Kligman; the members, Wilbur De Hart, Kathleen Lindsay, Margery Clayton, Ella Margaret Hardy; and the outsider, Dorothy Younct.

Book II. Book of Verse: Little Boy Blue, Fred Anderson; Big Boy Blue, Harry Bowersox.

Book III. Sharps and Flats: The judge, Worden Davis; the district attorney, Jack Williams; the bailiff, Bill Moser; the Glee Club representative, Eldred Tibbs; the "C" Club representative, Nadien Nelson; the National Honor Society representative, Melvin Brocker; the Brush and Pencil Club representative, Bob Barber.

Book IV. Book of School Life: The girl, Margaret Lee Beatty, the boy, W. C. Keys; the military student, Jack Wright; the Sponsor Major, Harriet Hardman.

Book V. Robin Hood: Robin Hood, Bill Fenner; Fire Truck, Donald Guinn.

Louis Hochman portrayed the part of Eugene Field, and Bellarose Wienshienk, that of Julia Comstock, his wife and sweeter. Specials were given by Ethelmae Mooney, Bob Barber, Dorothy Johnson, Leroy Kackley, Donald Roberts, Roy Sommers, Donald Michel, Morris Kessler, and Russel Arnold.

The 1937 Capers

Main Show

Hollywood celebrities, blood-curdling screams, and homicides intrigued the breathless audience. Gracie Allen, Greta Garbo, Zazu Pitts, Martha Raye, Lionel Stander, Arthur Treacher, W. C. Fields, and the mighty Won Long Pan, Chinese detective deluxe, made up the cast. The laugh riot occurred when the beautiful corpse accidentally sat up to straighten the folds of her dress. The unsolved mystery attracted crime-solvers everywhere.

Orchestra

Dancing darlings and clever dialogue were the two major elements of the 1937 edition of the Capers. Colorful and breezy costumes created a gorgeous effect, and coupled with the impressive stage setting, it was superb. The thoroughly American theme, "Truckin' and Trailin'" offered charming ideas.

Sophomore Side Show

The little "Sophas" proved themselves to be thoroughly capable of producing a grand little show all by themselves. A sparkling little dance chorus in black and white definitely settled things.

Did you ever see a turtle race? Especially when he is faced by obstacles. The usually slow moving creature gained new vitality and raced for death in the front hall. Petty bets were booked and the dividends were great. Not in a financial sense, but by the fact that they afforded much rare entertainment and fun.
The 1937 Capers

Senior Side Show

"The Merry-Go Round Broke Down" in 1937. So did the Senior side show, when they reached tops in entertainment by making the greatest profit of any side show. Charlie McCarthy was there (putting on his top hat) on Edgar Bergen's knee. Dancing, singing, and excellent entertainment were all packed into a few minutes of jovial nonsense. A tuneful little orchestra furnished the unique background of a circus setting. The members of the orchestra were dressed comically as clowns, with all the make-up and accessories.

Dancing

"May I Have This Dance?" This dairingly new attraction was offered for the first time at the 1937 Capers. The library was magically transferred into a dance hall, and beautiful hostesses became dancing partners. The room was decorated and only a very careful observer noticed the fact that he was in a library.

"Remember Me"

"Do You Remember One September Afternoon?" Well, it was in November, but the dance was executed so skillfully, that the audience was thoroughly convinced that regardless of the month, it was the most polished and beautiful dance ever performed on the Central rostrum. The shimmering, white taffeta formals of the girls, and the tuxedos of the boys were distinctive. The charming music and the duet of two well known Central entertainers provided the background.

Kaper Klapper

"Buy a Kaper Klapper?" A complete sell-out explains the popularity of this small student publication. The mythical events and characters caused many chuckles from the readers. Under the auspices of Publication I class, it added much to the highlights of the evening, and the funds for the school.

Junior Side Show

"Annie Doesn't Live Here Any More." An ole' fashioned melodrama was offered by the middle classmen. Villains, twirling mustaches and mortgages, blue-eyed heroine, and dashing heroes were portrayed. Absence made his heart grow fonder, and when he returned Annie was gone. Where was Annie? The Juniors solved the unsolvable in the side-splitting side show.

Book of Fairy Tales
Oh my God I'm heartily sorry
For having offended Thee
And I detest all my sins
Because I dread the loss
Of heaven and the pains of hell.
But most of all because I have offended Thee, Almighty God.
Wilt thou and all good and deserving of all my love
I firmly implore with the help of Thy grace to confess my sins and to do penance for the rest of my life.

Amen.
Here and There

1. Betty Jo swings a wicked shoe—horseshoe, we mean.
2. Don’t look now, but you’re not sitting in the carriage.
3. Don’t let ‘em kid ya! They’re just as glad when school is out as you are.
4. Get set, GO. We give you “winged mercuries” of the girls’ track team.
5. You’ll get it after the All School Play anyway, Dreher.
6. One, two, three and shoot. Shooting high but they never hit the sun.
7. Our leader is out for a stroll.
8. Mertie and Jean are destined to be famous artists some day.
9. A means of recreation. Speer is an ace in this.
10. Miss Bennett gives us a laugh. Take you bow, Buehlah.
11. Everything from soup to nuts. Let’s play house again next week.
12. Hall, hall the gang’s all here. It looks like the Student Council Convention.
Our School Life

1. Martha, be quiet and keep your feet on the floor. Take your bee Martha. We'll wait.
2.Ruth's expression, Hochman's grin. It must be an interesting discussion.
3. The thinkers. See the nicked head.
4. Bertman and Teller must be posing.
5. Jimmy must be posed. Jimmy wouldn't like you that way.
6. Hey, Dan, why don't you grow up and come around and see me sometime?
7. Aha, the literati! (?) You try and figure it out, I'm fired.
8. That looks pretty smug. Is it Jeana?
9. We was on a punch board. Not one of us was a winner this day, but they are in other things.
10. Out for a stroll on the Allerton steps.
11. And this is how McGillahey gets his beans. Ring them to the other side. Hurry.
12. Getting down to finer facts.
13. What a mixture of interested lookeresmers.

Farewell

15. What's wrong Fransky? Did Mister Palt pass you out? Don't intend to stay tonight. I can't tell all those hooks you have under the arm.
16. Ambitious sophomores starting out right with a bit of books in their hands and rolling those big eyes at the passer-by. Tak, tak, and so young.
17. Hochman always has a monopoly on them. This time he has four on the line. Line is forming to the right girls, come one, come all.
18. The three musketeers, Kent, Lackey and Goldie. Almost illiteration, except for Goldie, who isn't smiling because Yvonne isn't around.
20. Whiskers in the dark. Can't you lay off Hochman? Can't you see you are irritating the big fellow. Why don't you heck him up, Heimaeker?
21. Stuck again, eh? Which one can't stand it, Randle, or is it you Mitchell? Oh, well, the music will stop soon and then you can settle it.
22. With that winning smile and a car, you think you can get anything? No man in that crowd, maybe Fransky will be by soon.
23. Violin, he's been bad cold. Homeward bound, but darn if I can figure out who you are.
24. Geneva Jo Carrol, now ladies gentlemen will pose for us. What's wrong little girl, the big guy won't get you.
25. I guess you're just that way about her aren't you Gene? Don't be afraid, she won't go away. Just your hang around won't you. I can't stand it.
