Foreword....

With lights turned on in empty classrooms... cars filling up the parking lot... a hubbub of excited voices in the air...

The big rehearsal begins.

Backers meet to talk over business matters... the "Boss" directs his office roustabouts in the details of routine work, and guides the trainers as they strive to prepare young performers to take their places in life's Center Ring...

And thus the months go by.

But now and then there is a break in the long hours of practice and study—time out for entertainment and fun behind the scenes...

All this is Central...

Mr. Blackwell and the Board of Education

SUPERINTENDENT AND BOARD OF EDUCATION

The office of Superintendent of Schools must be filled by a person of many abilities including that of leadership. In this office Mr. George L. Blackwell has truly shown his fine qualities by laying a foundation for a more progressive school system in St. Joseph in its efforts to produce more capable students and wiser citizens.

From 1931 to 1938 Mr. Blackwell taught social studies, and was also an assistant coach at Central. He was instrumental in the organization of the Forum Club. On leaving Central, he accepted the duties of principal at Roosevelt High School where he served for some time. He was business manager in the main office of the school board until he was elevated to the office of Superintendent of Schools.

In his administration, Mr. Blackwell is assisted by six distinguished members of the St. Joseph Board of Education.
TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1953

The faculty of Central High School joins with me in congratulating you as you approach the completion of your high school career. Our interest in you does not end with your departure. We shall continue to feel pride in your future successes as we have felt pride in your past ones.

Wherever you may go, please remember that we shall be happy to serve you further when the need arises. May you remember with pleasure the years you spent here. Best wishes to all of you.

MARION E. GIBBINS
Principal

Looking in on Mr. Gibbins in his office.

Our Principal,
Mr. Gibbins
Miss Steel
and
Mr. Wilson

MR. WILSON

Our vice-principal must really be a "Jack-of-all-trades," for, aside from assisting the principal in his work, he has special duties.

As business manager of Central, he works with the St. Joseph Board of Education in setting up the school budget and managing finances. He also arranges all athletic events and schedules trips for the teams.

As Adviser to Boys he offers counsel and encouragement which helps many students in working out solutions to their problems.

As disciplinarian, he receives and deserves the respect and admiration of the entire student body through his quiet but firm enforcement of school regulations.

MISS STEEL

As Adviser to Girls, Miss Steel has won the trust and friendship of nearly every girl at Central. Her patience, capability, understanding and genuine good-humor are well known to everyone, and few would ever hesitate to seek her counsel for personal problems.

She also serves as Counselor to all students, helping them to plan their courses wisely for their years at Central, and offering suggestions to those who are planning their college courses.

No matter how busy she may be, she is always ready to turn a sympathetic ear to any troubled Centralite; and her sound advice and encouragement have helped to make school more worthwhile for a great many students.
The Roustabouts

OFFICE STAFF

The nerve center of Central is the main office. Students needing help or guidance can here find counselors who are always ready to give sound advice. From the office come all permits and passes. Here, too, permanent records of present and past Centralites are kept on file. Members of the student body staff the office which is headed by Miss Katherine Athens, chief clerk, who graduated from Central in 1950. She is ably assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Fugett.

As the performers of a circus relive in after days the parts they once played, so will the students of Central High School, in the years to come, relive their days at Central. The Big Top of a circus features the main acts of the show and in like manner many of us will find Central High School to be the scene of an important act of our lives.

Now the season is over and all is quiet under the Big Top. The same troupe who performed this season will never be assembled again. Some
"Our school, whose ideals and traditions are worthy of the loyalty of all."

Main Tent

will go on to greater glories—some will retire from the show for good—some will remain behind to guide the newcomers for the next season. Those who remain, keeping in mind that the show must go on, will strive to hold high the heritage which has been left to them. They will know that the best performance has not yet been given nor has the best record been made. Some of the more experienced performers, like this year's graduates, will join bigger shows—hoping that some day they can "better the best."
Officer of the Student Council

Our student officers, chosen from the ranks, must now return to the ranks. They have performed well, guiding much business and many school affairs capably. Thus they have held true to the faith of the student body.
Through the combined efforts of the student body and the school administration, the Student Council here at Central is one of the most progressive in this area. From our representatives to state and national conventions, we have learned that our school has gained many advantages over less fortunate schools. We have assemblies every week, the Pop Inn, and many less outstanding advantages that do not seem very important but go together to make Central a more pleasant place. This year, under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Graham, the most important projects of the Council have been to write a new school constitution and to work to bring a foreign student to Central.

The "Wakitan" Staff...

The Wakitan Staff, with its nucleus, the Board, is the group of students who tackled the difficult and generally thankless task of compiling the Central High School year book. The drawings, write-ups, and book layout are entirely the work of these students, who received no school credit for their work, but found a lot of good experience and fun in it.

The entire staff took subscriptions, distributed books in the spring, and handled other occasional jobs during the year that required the work of a large group of people. The actual compiling of the book, however, was done by a smaller group, the Wakitan Board. Members of the board are expected to devote the sixth period each day to the work of the annual, some work being assigned to individual editors of various sections, but most of it being done by the board as a whole.

Mr. Byron Baker is the co-ordinator of the HI-Y Clubs.

FIRE AND AIR RAID WARDENS

During the past year, Central has been well prepared for any type of disaster. The Central Indians of 1952 will long be remembered as one of the most aggressive and fighting teams that Central has fielded.

This year brought three outstanding changes to the scene of Central football. The first was our win over the Golden Eagles. It had been a long time since the tribe had taken the scalp of a C. B. team. The second was the choosing of three chiefs for the tribe—Dave Stephens, Ed Hull, and Duane Downer. The third was the absence of the Benton-Central football classic. Its passing was missed by all.

As the smoke cleared from the clashes of 1952, Central came out on top by capturing the co-championship for the city league play and second place in the Pony Express Conference. Most people considered our victory over C. B. by a score of 25-14 the number one game of the season.

With the excellent coaching of Coaches Gibson and Baker, only six points were scored against the mighty Central squad. Our reserve squad won the city championship, and our Sophomore team finished the season undefeated.

The beginning of the 1953 basketball season appeared gloomy indeed. It seemed impossible for Central to climb into the winners bracket. True to the Central spirit, however, the tribe didn't stay at the bottom long. For the season, the Indians came through with an average of .476. The 1953 season presented a great challenge to Coach Iba, but he handled it well.

Two of the top men for the season were Duane Downer, one of the co-captains, who made all-city, all-district, and all-state, and Bob Nidy, who made all-city, all-district, and all-conference. Dave Kramer the other co-captain, was also a great asset to the team along with Dave Hopkins, Larry Jones, Lewis Linville, Ray Sisson, Dave McFadden, Bill Mytton, Jim Rhodd and Jon Symon. The tribe topped off the season by winning the city championship.

The Freshman class has endeavored to live up to the ideals and respect of Central, striving ever to carry on the traditions set for them.

After many long weeks of practice the class of '56 presented a "Gay Twenties" assembly, which everyone enjoyed thoroughly.

They also brought glory and honor to Central by expert showmanship in sports events.

At the close of this school year, the "greenies" are glad that their freshman year is over, but they will always look back to the "green year" as a happy one.

We, the class of '53, wish them the "Best" in all they do during their next few years at Central.

FRESHMAN INFORMALS

1. "So studious!"
2. "Ah, sweet learning."
3. "I just don't understand!"
4. "Gossip."
5. "Ready, Aim, Fire!"
Half of the high school days of the Class of ’55 are now over. As the members of the sophomore class look back over the past year, they should feel that they have contributed much to Central. Following the tradition of former sophomore classes, they decorated the cafeteria as their main project. They should be commended for their excellent work.

The class also participated in Hi-Y, Y-Teen, F.H.A., Science and Camera Clubs, Brush and Pencil, G.A.A. and other extracurricular activities. As for sports, their football team went through the season undefeated. With such a good record, their team should win many honors for the school by the time they are seniors.

They were very capably represented in the Student Council the first semester by the following: LuRay Berger, Monty Burnham, Don Day, Mary Ann Gardner, Donna Lund, Pat Pearson, Elaine Weese and Cabray Wortley. Donna Lund, H. D. Miller, Kay Riley, Mack Roberts, Patsy Straub, Sandra White and Cabray Wortley were elected to represent them the second semester.

If the past of the Class of ’55 is any criterion, they will enter the new year with great spirit and enthusiasm to accomplish the tasks before them.

Three-fourths of the job is done; one-fourth remains to be done. And next year the class will take the lead in school affairs. That year will pass just as quickly as the first three.

No doubt, it has been fun to make and keep many friendships. It is fun to enjoy school life as it changes from day to day. Still, time IS passing, and plans have to be made for the future—how to make a big name next year? What college to attend? What to make of a life’s vocation?

A big year should be planned for next year. Everyone will want to be in the center ring. Now is a good time to set a goal to work toward, keeping it foremost in your mind.

“... And there I will keep you forever,
Yes, forever and a day,
Till the walls shall crumble to ruin,
And moulder in dust away!”—Longfellow.

Count the years—one, two, three, four. The time has come for seniors to move on in search of greener fields. Thus they must leave Central taking along the experiences of four years, a period of time spent by this class in studying school lessons, in making many new friends, and in sharing individual talents.

Some of the top performers offered their ability in music, some in student government, and some in stage performances. Many members of the class contributed greatly in minor roles, for the show cannot go on without aid from backstage.

Through the four years, the class has been known as "the most peppy ever." At the same time it has been called one of the most versatile groups. Here, then, are two goals left by the graduating seniors to future classes.

It is time to discard the epithet given to all seniors for "knowledge of everything and anything." As the members of the 1953 class leave the halls of Central, they take with them a lesson from Socrates: The wise man is he who knows what he does not know.
Here are the Top Six—the three boys and the three girls who have the highest scholastic rating of the Class of '53. It is interesting to note that these students, as has been true of most high-ranking seniors in the past, have also been outstanding in leadership and service, both in school and in extra-curricular activities. Most of them are members of the National Honor Society, and are certainly deserving of the distinction of being the high-ranking members of the 1953 graduating class.

Wishing—

that we had liked school at first, we look back to see that more could have been done if it had mattered at the time.

To some, high school offered much after a change from grade school. But many of us looked only for a good time.

Time passed so quickly, and now all is finished. We look back on our treasured memories.

Remember the club meetings and the assemblies?

Remember the laughs in class and the parties?

Then there were the empty halls after school hours, and the cold dreary days, when snow covered the windows. How many times we caught up on overdue sleep!

Remember the crowded halls between classes? There were friends among the crowd. And how many of us there were who longed to be in school instead of sick in bed.

If the work could be done over again, it would probably be the same, but now we are leaving.

Ahead lies a "new world" or a prolonged school. Some of us will marry, some will get jobs, and all will try to contribute something to the world.

Some of us will learn a bit more. But, in a short time, we too, will be with the rest.

We shall live in the future and for the future, and only remember the past; but there will be homecomings and friends with whom to talk and remember.
