Central High School
St. Joseph, Missouri Vol. 84
Do you care about being involved in school activities? ... SENIOR GIRL: "Not particularly, I'd rather get involved with individuals."
... SOPHOMORE GIRL: "Yes, but I can't get on Senate or anything because I've tried and not succeeded." ... SENIOR GIRL: "No because the same old people get everything."
... SOPHOMORE BOY: "Some activities I do, others I could care less. I never liked football, basketball, etc., and I only go because my girlfriend likes them." ... SENIOR GIRL: "Yes, definitely. I get great enjoyment and satisfaction from being involved in my school. It may sound corny, but I really love Central." Do you think Marijuana should be legalized? SENIOR BOY: "I read that alcohol is worse than marijuana. Alcohol is legalized."
... SOPHOMORE MALE: "A drug addict is just someone who can't cope with the world or is afraid to. Hiding behind drugs is trash."
... FRESHMAN GIRL: "No, we have enough things in the world to destroy us, we don't need any help." ... FRESHMAN GIRL: "I don't care."
... SENIOR GIRL: "I don't have anything against grass at all. What I don't believe in is the destructive use of drugs."
... TEACHER: "Yes." ... Do you think the regulation for passes out of class is too strict? ... FRESHMAN GIRL: "No, I think that it is the only way to keep people not belonging here out."
... FRESHMAN GIRL: "Yes, they make you feel like you're in a prison." TEACHER: "Very lenient—no signature or time required on pass, gives students greater freedom."
... JUNIOR GIRL: "Yes, because a person can't even go to the restroom anymore."
SOPHOMORE BOY: "What I don’t like are the teachers specially placed in the halls asking you if you have one."

...What are your views on the new dress code? ... SENIOR GIRL: "I think that the more liberalized dress code gives students more of their deserved rights. It's only too bad that it wasn’t done sooner."

SENIOR BOY: "I feel the new dress code is great because I don’t think the way a person looks has anything to do with the way they learn."

JUNIOR GIRL: "It's all right, but I would just as soon wear dresses. It looks a little better instead of everyone walking around in jeans."

JUNIOR MALE: "I think that the teachers and principal are trying to give us more freedom and this is a great start. I like it.

...Do you like being seated in alphabetical order?

SENIOR GIRL: "It really makes no difference to me; I'm here to learn."

SENIOR GIRL: "No! If I could sit by whom I like and where I like, I'm sure my attitude in class would improve."

TEACHER: "No, I arrange my chairs in half-circles and allow students to select their own location. It is immaterial to me where they sit."

SENIOR GIRL: "I don't mind it, I get to know other people that way."

What are your opinions on the Vietnam conflict? ...

FRESHMAN GIRL: "I think that the war should be stopped. We're just wasting lives of young men that could be used in more productive ways than killing other human beings."

SENIOR GIRL: "There shouldn't be a conflict."

SENIOR BOY: "It stinks! What are your opinions on peace?"

SENIOR BOY: "I believe in Nixon's present policy. We shouldn’t withdraw so fast that South Vietnam doesn’t have a chance against Communism.”

Do the teachers treat you like adult individuals?

SENIOR GIRL: “No, most teachers treat us as children by pressing their opinions on us and not allowing us to express our own.”

SENIOR BOY: “No, only when I conform to their establishment of ideals.”

SOPHOMORE GIRL: “Most teachers do, but sometimes we give them reason not to. I think we have some pretty far out teachers here.”

JUNIOR GIRL: “Some do and some don’t. Some teachers aren’t all that mature themselves.”

In your opinion are school lunches worth 35c?

SENIOR BOY: “No, it’s beyond me how they can mess up food that much.”

SOPHOMORE GIRL: “They’re okay except we keep having the same thing over and over.”

FRESHMAN GIRL: “No, they’re worth much more than that; I’ve never eaten a better meal.”

What do you think about seniors getting open campus?

JUNIOR BOY: “I wish I was a senior.”

SENIOR GIRL: “I like being independent; I like leaving the school on lunch hour.”

What do you do with your free time?

SENIOR BOY:
“Go out with my girl.”
FRESHMAN BOY: “Anything that comes along and seems interesting.”
SENIOR GIRL: “I go to the park and find my only comfort in peaceful solitude.”
FRESHMAN BOY: “Play football, basketball, baseball, or something, or read magazines or comic books—once in a while a book.”
SENIOR GIRL: “What free time?”
SOPHOMORE BOY: “I think they are a real improvement to the needs of the student.”
SENIOR BOY: “It looks like it might be a refreshing change in our system, and it proves with a little effort old ways can be changed.”
SENIOR GIRL: “I think these courses will broaden our knowledge as well as create more interest.”
Is there a definite drug problem at Central?
FRESHMAN GIRL: “No, I think most kids have a brain to stay away from them.”
SENIOR GIRL: “Yes. People don’t seem to realize it, but even if there is one person hooked on drugs, it’s one too many.”
SENIOR GIRL: “There must be, ’cause I doubt if we’re all naturally high.”
SENIOR GIRL: “If you consider heroin a definite drug problem, no; if you consider grass a definite drug problem, it’s whatever you make it.”

before grid victory over Center

Throughout Homecoming Week, students showed spirit by participating in such activities as "Wear a Smile Day", "Hat Day", "Blue Jean Day", "Banner Day", and "Color Day". Members of football and cross-country team nominated six girls and students chose Jeannine Campbell as 1971 Autumn Queen.

Before the game, queens of past years paraded in antique cars and were then introduced to the spectators. The football team topped off the week with a victorious score of 14-12 over Center High School.

Junior Gretchen Ness pleads with Debbie Ytell to buy a Color Day item to support the Junior Class.

Queen Jeannine reigns as 1971 Autumn Queen

"Autumn Queen" became the new title for football queen this year. For the first time, both the football and cross-country teams nominated the girls with each team choosing three.

Students elected Jeannine Campbell as queen, Cindy Scott as maid-of-honor, and Sandy Shane as first attendant. Dana Block, Cathy Rich, and Jennifer Wyeth were chosen as second, third, and fourth attendants.

Myron Luikart crowns Miss Jeannine Campbell as 1971 Autumn Queen while Dan Wenz and Cindy Scott watch.

Jeff Browne and Ritchie Manns check the time to make sure they are not late for the Autumn Queen assembly.
"The Palace '72' imitates vaudeville show setting

"Palace of '72" transformed Central's stage into a present day vaudeville show. Masters and Mistress of Ceremony Jerry Yanuck, Steve Lipira, and Barb Hayes introduced the nineteen acts and skits. Different groups, clubs, and individuals, involving over two hundred seniors, presented the acts.

"Frankie and Our Gang", presented by senior members of Delta Kappa Phi, reinacted various stages of Principal Frank Baker's life. Other acts included musical numbers, a poet's corner, a cops and robbers skit, and a baton twirling act. Seniors presented the show Friday night, October 22.

Jerry Yanuck, Barb Hays, and Steve Lipira, emcees, await a reaction from audience to one of their jokes.

In the skit, "Du-Dah-Da-Da" presented by members of Alpha Epsilon Phi during the Senior Variety Show, Dan Stevens shouts at his workers to be quiet and get to work, but Bill Scott directs them in another chorus.

Barry Alberts questions Bill Miller to see if he can "Beat the Reaper" as John Fletcher gives him a shot.
Members of Lambda Alpha Lambda sorority, posing as little girls, sing "A You're Adorable" while sitting on alphabet blocks and holding toy animals.

Bank robbers accidentally run into the police in the skit "Keystone Kops" presented by the GAA Board.

Mimi Parisoff, a majorette, twirls a fire baton to the theme of "Hawaii Five-O" in the Senior Variety Show.

Mary Lynn Turner, as Little Miss Muffet, sits quietly as Diane Haraway, the spider, sneaks up beside her.
Students produce first fall play, ‘Black Comedy’

Steve Lipira, who portrays Mr. Bamburger, an art dealer, walks into the cellar left open by the electrician.

Total darkness enveloped the stage as the first fall All School Play, “Black Comedy”, began. Full stage lights, representing darkness, brought the attention of the audience to the stage area.

Eight students showed their acting ability by using British and German accents. Actors were also challenged by the requirement to grope around in total darkness with stage lights glaring at them.

Mr. Mike Pittman directed “Black Comedy”, assisted by Mr. Terry Minnick. The student directors, who helped in the production, were Casey Meyer, Becky Tolo, Barb Belcher, and Jess Sherwood.

Janet Azelton and Kay Thomas anxiously wait as Brian Maugh calls an electrician for help during a blackout.

Carol Melkett introduces her fiancé Brinsley Miller, portrayed by Brian Maugh, to his future father-in-law Colonel Melkett, played by Richard Pope.

Kay Thomas, as Carol Melkett, discovers a "leak in the roof" as Dana Block sprays her with seltzer water.

Brian Maugh, thinking that Jeff Edleman, the electrician, is the art dealer, anxiously awaits his decision.
Students, PTSA organize Christmas Fair to raise

This year Central sponsored a Christmas Fair at East Hills to raise money for a heart scanner to be used by the entire school system. Casey Meyers served as chairman and encouraged students and members of the PTSA to donate, create, and sell the items.

Other Yuletide activities varied from singing around the Christmas tree to the presentation of the plays by Mrs. Chronister's third, fourth, and sixth hour drama classes.

Seniors and faculty held a basketball game and homerooms competed to encourage students to donate canned food for the Salvation Army.

Members of Miss Maxwell's second hour class sing carols in Spanish around the main hall Christmas tree.

During third hour Christmas play, John Rosen, Dave Carter, and Randy Cox desperately try to get a date.

At the Senior-Faculty game, spectator Bob McCone does a backflip as faculty cheerleaders heckle the seniors.

Mrs. Williams observes Mrs. Frazier's door decoration of usable items to be donated to State Hospital.

Six members of the Senior Class help count the thousands of cans collected and donated by Central students to be given to the Salvation Army.

As freshmen from a neighboring Christmas Fair booth look on, Paul Athens and Brent Powers move a television set to the Junior Booth to be sold.

During the light show presented by Mrs. Chronister's third hour drama class, actors dressed in white characterize such things as eruptions of the earth and formation of life.

Terri Holm
Winter Queen
Karen George, Candy Castle, and Stephanie Remington stand before the student body after being announced as Winter Queen Attendants at the assembly.

Terri Holm reigns over '72 winter sports season

Winter Queen Coronation differed from past coronations in that the girls were not informed of election results until they were on stage. The dress, also differing, was semi-formal.

Excitement deepened as Kevin Long announced results to the assembled student body. Winter Queen was Terri Holm, maid of honor Marilyn Casteel, and first attendant Lisa Ray. Attendants were Candy Castle, Karen George, and Stephanie Remington.

As Terri Holm stands up to give her acceptance speech, she catches the crown on her head before it falls.

Maid of Honor Marilyn Casteel adjusts the crown on Terri Holm's head while Lisa Ray admires her flowers.
Reserve cheerleaders, headed by Lynn Collier and Kathy Bishop, practice a formation for future games.

Spirit Bunnies rally enthusiasm using spirit sticks.

Reserve cheerleader Kathy Bishop practices a split jump in mid-air at an after-school practice.

Reserve and varsity cheerleaders attended a clinic in Lincoln, Nebraska last summer. At this clinic both squads won the “Spirit Stick” and the “Spark Plug”. Sandy Shane of the varsity squad won the outstanding cheerleader award.

For basketball homecoming, cheerleaders put up banners and signs in the yards of the players and coaches and decorated the locker room.

During football season, the Spirit Bunnies, or boy cheerleaders, made giant spirit sticks as an encouragement for more school spirit.

Jeannine Campbell, Tina Sarris, and Kit Jackson practice a pull-out split for varsity formation.

in 1972 musical “Oliver”

Oliver’s plea, “Please, sir, I want some more,” starts off a rollicking, heartwarming musical story of a young boy’s search for love. Mary Ann Gerhardt and Pete Cargill play Oliver, who is taken in and taught to “pick a pocket or two” by Fagin, portrayed by Jeff Edelman.

Stage crew constructed a set consisting of a threesided revolve surrounded by a large two-level platform. Light crew used pools of light and symbolic lights to accent the set. Nancy Gouge, Kathy Kranitz, and Steve Lipira were the student directors who helped produce the play which ran March 15-18.

Fagin, played by Jeff Edelman, treasures the “little pleasures” that he has set aside for his old age.

Bill Sykes, played by John Rosen, catches Nancy, portrayed by Barb Hayes, taking Oliver, played by Mary Ann Gerhardt, away from Fagin’s academy of thieves.

As the “Oom Pah Pah” scene opens the second act, Mark Ray does a split jump from a mid-level platform.
Juniors try new campaign ideas to promote votes for candidates in student election

Doug Day and Jeb Blakley support Central’s government by voting in the 1971 student body election.

In the 1971 student body election, both students and candidates showed some degree of apathy. Only eight juniors ran, and approximately one-half of the student body voted.

Myron Luikart became Central’s new president, and Phil Beard vice president. Stephie Remington and Lisa Ray assumed offices of secretary and treasurer.

Terry Still and Dianne Krumme support their candidates by distributing passouts to Doug Harman and Neta Neff.

Junior Class chooses ‘Deja Vu’ as ’71 Prom theme

Juniors chose “Deja Vu”, or the feeling of something already seen, as the theme of the 1971 prom. The decorations consisted of a large sun and different colored silhouettes of men representing a unifying of the races of the world.

Music by the band, “Honey Chile” was accented by special effects provided by ‘Lights by Edison.’ Class President Stan Welch presented the Prom Sweetheart Debbie Chandler with a gift of appreciation.

Phyllis Ogletree graduates as class valedictorian

Bob Keatley introduces the Honorable William S. Morris, guest speaker at the 1971 commencement ceremony.

At the '71 Senior awards assembly, Jim Trout, Margie Krull, and Steve Maugh received three newly-established awards: The Vic Trophy, the Class of '73 Award, and the Ruth Spangberg Scholarship.

Of the 483 graduating seniors, Phyllis Ogletree attained the honor of valedictorian, and Jeb Blakely achieved position of salutatorian.

Administration enforces new rule for metal passes

During a Student Senate conference, Mrs. Carol Cutler writes down ideas for the Christmas Fair.

New faces—new rules—this was the scene in 1971-1972. Mr. Bill Tarpley became the new vice-principal in the main office while Mr. Aaron Ranner and Mr. Bob Alcorn filled in the vacancies in the freshman and sophomore offices.

New rules involved tardies and hall passes. Students were allowed only three tardies each quarter. If any more were accumulated, the student received a suspension letter. Students also needed a metal pass to get out of class for any purpose.

SEES, the new program introduced by the English department, stands for Selective Elective English Strands. Students chose from seven strands including language, literature, skills, thematic, written, oral, and cross strands.

Some of the courses included man and death, Shakespearean tragedy, creative drama, science fiction, story telling and today's voices in modern poetry. Film courses proved most popular with fifty students and more in some classes.

First semester staff, headed by David Meyer and Kellie Matthews, initiated the "News Briefs" and "Trivia" columns. For the first time a girl was co-editor of the entire sports page.

Doug Day and Jerry Yanuck headed second semester staff which changed the style of the Outlook nameplate. Each paper second semester staff wrote contained six pages instead of the usual four.

To meet a deadline, Jess Sherwood and Nancy Kendall work out approximate length of a headline for the Outlook.
Kay Evans and Karen George discuss a layout sixth hour.

Virginia Young, Beth Lau, and Claire Bennett plan pictures and copy on a layout for a future Outlook.

Editors of the first semester staff, Kellie Matthews and David Meyer, discuss plans for an upcoming issue.

Barbara Belcher, Janet Boyts, and Lynn Wegenka discuss ideas to improve the latest edition of the Outlook.

Chemistry classes receive new “Spec 20” machine

Bob Musser and Marilyn Coate practice dissecting skills on a tapeworm during fourth hour Biology II lab.

Two new teachers, Mrs. Carmen Moore and Mr. Lamont Schoenfelder, became a part of the science department in the area of biology.

Chemistry classes received new tables and some new equipment. Among the equipment was a “Spec 20.” This machine analyzes compounds based on light absorption and was helpful in labs.

Mr. Castle observes the procedure Kenneth Shipers uses as he measures the strength of a spring in physics.

Junior John Senne feeds fish in Mr. Schoenfelder’s Biology II class.
Social science department plans semester courses

Although history classes have not made any drastic changes, the Social Science Department has plans for several new semester courses to be introduced next year. They are to be elective, similar in structure to English electives introduced this year.

Possible semester courses include modern political ideologies, Russian history, and human relations. Among the two semester classes to be offered are ethnic studies and recent American history.

JoElyn Christensen and Dianne Riggs report on a selected country during ancient history class.

Ellen Yanuck presides over the mock Constitutional Congress in Mr. Crenshaw’s first hour history class.
Mrs. Beaumont indicates chance of new courses

Mrs. Loma Beaumont, Math Department chairman, has indicated that the department is considering offering semester and quarter courses. Also under discussion is the possibility of a pre-algebra course for freshmen and upperclassmen who feel they are not ready for algebra.

Mrs. Loma Beaumont, chairman of the Math Department uses a distance graph to explain a word problem.
Typing students create, mimeograph original cards

Jim McLaughlin, in Mr. Francis' first hour typing class, learns how to use the ditto duplicating machine.

Central has approximately nine different subjects in the Business Department from which students may choose. One of these is typing. In typing this year students drew pictures that they mimeographed and made into Christmas cards. They also learned to run the copy machine and type manuscripts.

Mrs. Irene Bradshaw assists Debbie Bleich in making an adjusting entry into her Spencer Athletic Set.

Rodney Wilson, freshman, checks his typing speed on a timed writing problem.
Drivers Ed students learn winter safety precautions

Any students at least 15½ years old may register to take drivers education. Besides teaching safe driving techniques, Mr. John Anderson and Mr. Ray Walker explain how to maintain a car in both hot and cold weather. Students also learn to change tires and perform other safety checks on the car.

Mr. Anderson and Herb Steeby check the water in the battery of the drivers ed car before they begin driving.

Jana Noll checks to see if she has done all the necessary steps in the starting procedure before driving.
Juniors, seniors study to obtain electronics skills

At Hillyard Technical School, junior and senior girls, as well as boys, took advantage of the opportunity to receive training in many fields including data processing and electronics. Mr. Charles W. Thomas became the new vice-principal this year.
Shop classes build toboggan for group project

Steve Liechti, freshman, uses a compass at the drawing board in Mr. Robert Evans' mechanical drawing class.

Woodworking and general shop classes, under the direction of Mr. Robert Evans, tried something new this year. Groups of six or seven worked on group projects. The classes as a whole worked on a toboggan.

In the general metals class, Steve Hill and Bob Morton assemble duck decoys as part of an assignment.

Art Classes lend statues for play ‘Black Comedy’

With the increase in enrollment of students in art classes, the Art Department expanded with the use of two additional classrooms and the hiring of another teacher, Miss Cindy Weaver.

Members of the Art Department decorated the stage for coronation assemblies, made art work for “Black Comedy”, and decorated offices at Christmas time.
Pre-vocational classes acquire school apartment

Teresa Bartlett and Wendy Smith mix a batch of peanut brittle in Miss Wright’s home economic class.

Pre-vocational home economics, a new class, aims primarily at girls who will not go to college, but who will take up a career in the labor field.

Students learn housekeeping techniques and receive two credits for the two hour class.

Linda Dire and Debbie DeSpain prepare to mix a cake in Miss Mier’s sixth hour pre-vocational home economics.

Freshman Cindy White practices sewing in a zipper in Mrs. Elaine Derks’ home economics class.

squad with undefeated season

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Brock and Mr. Charles Blakley, the reserve football teams ended the 1971 season with an undefeated record.

Composed entirely of juniors, the members of this year's reserve squad will make up the varsity lineup next year. Since their freshman year, this year's squad members have been undefeated.

Sophomore Bill Looney, number 25, struggles to escape the grasp of an opponent in an attempt to score.

An opposing ball-cARRIER stumbles at a tackle attempt made complete by a Central football squad member.

Central freshmen boast undefeated football squad

Freshman Scott Peterson twists to receive a pass and complete a well executed play during a home game.

Central's freshmen, class of '75, followed in the footsteps of both the varsity and reserve football teams and completed the season undefeated, thus making it their third undefeated year.

This year's coaching staff, directed by Mr. Mack Clark, consisted of Randy Dedrickson, Steve Moore, and Joseph Schibi.

Martin Rucker latches on to an opponent ball-carrier in a successful attempt to keep him from scoring.

Scott Peterson carries the ball around the right end as fellow teammates block to clear his way.
C-Club projects include stationery, tumbler sales

Central's C-Club is an organization open to boys who have earned letters in any of the various sports offered by Central. The sponsor for the 1971-72 year was Coach Muir and president was Russ Ellis.

GAA girls receiving trophy honors were Gwen Ashbrook, Debbie Bullmaster, Nancy Geha, Cheri Williams, Mona Mayfield, and Maureen McGarrah.

Keith Johnson pays Harold Epps for three boxes of stationery being sold as a money raising project.

Varsity basketball team beats Benton by one point

Senior Jeff Browne leaps into the air for a clear shot as Tom Richmond prepares for a possible rebound.

in LeBlond Tournament

Lettermen Jeff Browne, Doug Wood, Lee Dancer, Dave Shipley, John Williams, and George Blakley returned to play varsity basketball this year. The team captured the LeBlond Tournament, putting Benton in second place.

In the Savannah Tournament, however, the tribe took second place due to a loss to Benton. Indians won the homecoming game against Columbia Hickman with a score of 71-75.

At the first city league game at Missouri Western, Jeff Browne makes an attempt to score against Benton.

Freshmen capture fourth

Reserve members Bill Urquhart and Jeff Bushman keep their eyes on the ball as Bob Blakley attempts a basket.

Jeff Bushman catches a pass thrown to him while Bobby Blakley stands to one side and watches the ball.
Tomahawk Tourney

Central’s reserve basketball squad, coached by Jim Perry, plays in no tournaments but instead the coach sets up a schedule of games to be played.

Freshman basketball team once again took the first place trophy of the Tomahawk Tourney. This makes the fourth consecutive win since the beginning in 1969. The freshmen basketball teams, coached by Don Crank, have compiled a record of 40 wins until the team lost this year to LeBlond’s basketball team.

During the game with LeBlond, Rande Read, sophomore, shoots the basketball trying for two points.

‘Camels’ take intramural football championship

During an intramural football game, Bob Power gets ready to throw a pass to another member of his team.

Intramural football, under the direction of Mr. Mike Pittman, is an after-school activity designed to provide Central boys with a constructive energy outlet. Any young man with a willing spirit, and who is not involved in varsity sport, may participate. Teams are organized, coached, and managed by the participants themselves.

Junior Ron Wrehe gets ready to catch a pass in the championship game against the South Hall Brothers.

Bob McCon, coach of the South Hall Brothers, surveys the line before the hike in an intramural football championship game against the Camels.
Steve Moore receives gymnastic coaching position

Gymnastic students work up routines to be performed before Coach Moore, the new gymnastics coach. Coach Moore grades the routines on how well the student plans and performs it. Students have a choice to perform on six pieces of equipment—balance beam, parallel bars, rings, side horse, trampoline, and uneven parallel bars—as well as on mats.

Susie Eveloff attempts a backflip with the assistance of Coach Moore during first hour gymnastics.

Lee Beauchamp prepares to execute a forward roll while Janet Spangler helps.

Darrel LaFollett completes a backflip on the trampoline while Mike Myers and Rex Jones act as spotters.
Randy Philippi tries to hold Greg Smith by using the "arm lever" hold.

Wrestlers rank first in West Platte Tournament

During wrestling practice, senior Joe Archdekin tries to throw junior Teddy Talbott with a "duck under" grip.

Central's wrestling team won the city championship as well as first place in the West Platte tournament. The varsity team defeated Maryville, last year's state champions, for the first time in Central's wrestling history. Wrestlers practiced every night after school, during the wrestling season, under the coaching of Mr. John Chavez and Mr. Steve Moore.

"Fireman's carry," used by Kevin Long on Jerry Gilliland, is one of the many holds wrestlers work to perfect.
Swim team holds district meet at new college pool

Swim team captured 4th place in the annual Van Horn relays this season. Under the direction of Coach William Mier, the team won 11 out of 12 meets they participated in.

Joe Hamilton set a new diving record with a point total of 250.15, breaking his old record of 168.90 set in 1971.

Various members of swim team practice racing to improve their speed, ability, and coordination.

Indian cindermen capture 1971 City Track Title

An exuberant Craig Hutton, junior, breaks through the finish line to take first place in the 220 yard dash event at the city meet held at Noyes Field.

Senior Tony Tibbitts hands off the baton to Joe Henderson during the mile relay at the city meet.

Senior Ernest Hawkins demonstrates the hurdling form that helped him become Central's high point man for 1971.
for fourth straight year

Under an able coaching staff directed by Mr. John Chavez, the Central cindermen finished the 1971 track season with an impressive record. The Central varsity and reserve teams took first place at the city track meet with 96 and 111 points, respectively. Central has won the city title 33 times since 1922.

Other important Indian victories included taking first place at the state indoor qualifying meet and qualifying eight men to go on to the state meet.

Junior Bill Green displays the fine skill and precise timing required by pole vaulters to clear the bar.

Kelly Carle, senior, demonstrates superb form at the 1971 city track meet as he heaves the shot put.

new co-ed class program

Co-ed gym classes started this year in an effort to conserve space. Integrated teams proved successful in various sports.

Students also began studying health as a regular part of the P.E. curriculum.

Kevin King demonstrates to the sixth hour gym class how to correctly do the straddle jump on the side horse.

While learning wrestling in gym class, Mike Bailey and Dan Vandeveer await the signal for starting.
Mary Schockweiler wins third

Dawnelle Marquardt hits the volleyball over the net to Toni Rivera and Nancy Geha who prepare to spike the ball to Dawnelle and Maureen McGarrah.

Sophomore Sally Steeb demonstrates the diving form which she used during the GAA diving competition held at the Y.W.C.A. swimming pool.

Gretchen Ness, junior, displays backstroke which helped her win the GAA swimming championship held at the Y.W.C.A.
ping pong championship

"Change" was one of the key words in GAA this past year. Among the changes, the most prominent occurred with the removal of two of the sports. Flag football replaced archery this year because of the need for a team sport instead of an individual sport. Ping pong was also dropped due to a lack of time.

Senior Liz Hunt returns the ping pong ball across the net while Mary Schockweiler stands to one side.

Paula Frye, sophomore, practices the running broad jump, one of the events she won during track competition.

Sophomore Paula Frye pitches the softball to batter Debby Higdon while Kathy Aladeen catches and Pat Lipira acts as umpire for the game.
Patty Blanton prepares to deliver the ball and collect individual bowling points for her GAA record.

During badminton game Dianne Withrow watches the opponents while her partner Sue Hogan returns the birdie.

BSU sponsors spring play entitled ‘Possum Hunt’

Mr. Hamilton Henderson organized the Black Student Union last year. The organization’s goal is to give Blacks pride in their heritage. Membership extends to all students, but officers must have a 2.0 grade average.

BSU has sponsored dances, a skating party to help a student severely injured in a hunting accident, and produced a play and an assembly to enlighten students.
Office staff increases with freshman office addition

Annex library assistant, Janet Drummond, checks out a book for a student as one of her many duties.

Student office workers volunteer free hours to help the administration. During the course of the year students learn to record tardies, accept phone calls, and type out absentee slips. They also run errands for various office personnel.

Student library workers straighten shelves, check out, mend, and put away books. They also write and send out notices on over-due books.

Debbie Dannen and Delbert Wood, student office workers, record first hour tardies on permanent records.

Mary Ann Gerhardt, office assistant, files mail and notices in teachers' boxes.
Students work free time assisting administration

Members of stage crew met every day second and third hours. During this time they learned to operate the lights and sound equipment. Also they learned how to produce special effects necessary for some assemblies. Students in the cafeteria gave up their fourth hour class to work. Their jobs varied from selling milk and ice cream to washing dishes and scraping plates. Some also helped count the tickets collected.
Forum Club sponsors registration drive for voters

Ritchie Manns pushes "roller ref" Dave Shipley across the court at senior-faculty basketball game.

In 1971, Forum Club gained two new sponsors, Mr. James Crenshaw and Mrs. Ruth Newhart. Students now accept the responsibility of instigating and organizing their own projects. These projects included a drive to get all voters to register for the coming elections.

Senior Leadership Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Newhart and Mr. Burton Dunbar, initiated 35 new members. They sponsored the annual senior-faculty game and helped orient the freshman.

Junior Achievement, formed to prepare students for business careers of today, consisted of twelve companies under the direction of Mr. Edward Nels. The majority of the companies dealt with production. However, this year JA added research and bookkeeping firms as well.

Distributive Education Club of America, a state and national organization, sold plastic toy animals as a money-making project. Mr. Larry Marrs, sponsor, formed the club specifically for those seniors in need of jobs.

Future Teachers of America Club emphasized special education this year. Miss Mary Hash, sponsor, arranged for professionals in various fields of special education to speak before the club. At meetings, members discussed such topics as speech therapy, counseling, and teaching below average students.
Hi-Y holds mock trial; Y-Teens join for world fellowship dinner

Y-Teens sponsored a world fellowship dinner for all Central Y-Teen girls. Each club represented a different country and prepared a foreign dish for the dinner. Individual clubs planned their own activities. However, all Y-Teen clubs joined together to sell candy bars to help finance the Cinderella Ball.

Hi-Y members participated in a mock congress held in Jefferson City. Each member could choose to be a senator or representative. They met, passed bills, and carried out other parliamentary procedures.

Junior Hi-Y members Kevin Coyne, Dave Tolo, and Clint Mooney work on evidence for mock trial.
NHS honors 80 juniors, seniors in special candlelighting ceremony held in April

Mr. Frank Baker congratulates Candy Castle and Craig Smith on gaining admission into National Honor Society.

National Honor Society tapped thirty juniors and fifty seniors on April 4, 1971. After the tapping ceremony, the old members gave a reception for the initiates at the Francis Street United Methodist Church.

Initiates became members at a special assembly on April 22. At noon, the society gave a banquet honoring new members at Hotel Robidoux. NHS members and faculty selected pledges on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service.

Jim Trout and Richard Koch lead senior members to stage at the beginning of the N.H.S. initiation ceremony.

assets to human achievement
Bob Pumphrey, Jim Summers counsel 660 frosh

Freshman counselors Mr. Jim Summers and Mr. Bob Pumphrey conduct interviews with students and parents. Together parents, students, and counselors schedule tentative classes for the coming years. The counselors not only schedule classes but give occupational information, advice concerning personal problems, and suggestions on how to cope with problems during school years. With the counselors' advice the student can secure information to obtain a place in their chosen work.

Pete Cargill, president; Steve Poe, vice-president; Becky Sarris, secretary; and Coral Thacker, treasurer participate in school activities as class officers. Nine freshman senators serve on different committees on the Student Senate. Other opportunities for involvement for freshmen include GAA, Y-Teens, Hi-Y, and the Student Senate.

Lisa Ray orders Coral Thacker, Pete Cargill, Steve Poe, and Becky Sarris to clean Indian head after walking on it.

curriculum to obtain graduation credit
Class of '74 loses 49 students since last year.

For their first class project, the Sophomore Class sponsored a bake sale at East Hills. The proceeds from the bake sale were donated to the Christmas fair. The Class of '74 also sponsored the annual Sophomore Class Bundle Day in the spring. Centralites brought usable clothes, toys, appliances, and furniture to school to donate to the Goodwill Industries.

Coach Brock and Blakley organized a football team of eighteen sophomore boys. The team played three games and were victorious throughout the season by defeating Maur Hill, Park Hill, and Savannah.

Steve Thornton listens as Miss Hash, sophomore counselor, discusses the advantages and credits of English courses.

Pat Lipira, Mark Hampton, and Judy Gibbs admire the class ring Lee Ann Remington has ordered from Mr. Rooney.

Paul Athens boosts the sale of Color Day items with a sales pitch to Kathy Comley, Debbie Dannen, and Bob Power.

Class of 1973 honors Paul Athens with presidency

Centralites and other faculty members faced the burden of battling the “junior-peddlers” on Friday mornings during football and basketball season. Besides the weekly sale of pep ribbons, class officers Paul Athens, Bob Power, Kathy Comley, and Debbie Dannen, with the assistance of class counselor, Mrs. Pertain, organized Color Day for Homecoming Week. With money from these sales and other projects, the Junior Class financed the Junior-Senior Prom.

In the midst of raising money for the Prom and attending classes, the juniors played an important role in Student Senate elections. Members of the Junior Class vied for the four Student Body Offices, while others signed up to run for Student Senate representatives. Still other juniors found interest in supporting candidates by attending campaign meetings.

Senior girls edge women faculty in benefit game

Senior Class members, under the direction of faculty members Mr. Marc Stine and Mr. Robert Moran, produced "The Palace '72" which revived the vaudeville era. The Senior Class elected Doug Day, Bill Morgan, and Dave Meyer to serve as student directors of this production of the Senior Variety Show.

Along with the prestige of being a senior, much of a senior's duties fall along the lines of leadership. Thirty-five members made up the Senior Leadership Club which published the "Indian Guide" to acquaint and welcome freshmen and students new to Central. The girls in the club formed a basketball team to play the women faculty members during half time of the senior-faculty game.

In academic standing, Mary Ann Gerhardt and Kellie Matthews represented Central as National Merit finalists. Nine other seniors qualified as semi-finalists. Mrs. Katherine Green counseled the class of '72 and arranged class schedules and projects. Mr. Moran assisted Mrs. Green in counseling seniors in preparation for college.

Boy cheerleaders and Doug Wood, class president, show spirit and enthusiasm after the seniors won the battle-cry.

In four years of learning and meeting not natural people
I am looking forward to the end
through mixed emotions
I feel insecure
uncertain
I have strived for high honors
progressive involvement prepared for further education
I am scared of new environment
loss of touch with friends pressures hopes
